

Reader's Digest

MAY 2025

₹125

How Nature Heals Us

PAGE 38

R1D
214

EVERYDAY HEROES

A Drop of Life For Newborns

PAGE 18

CULTURE

The Vanishing Masters of Miniature Art

PAGE 52

HEALTH

New Ways to Relieve Pain

PAGE 28

18 THINGS

Spilling the Tea about Tea

PAGE 34

TRAVEL

How Portugal Healed My Broken Heart

PAGE 90

CONTENTS

Features

38

COVER STORY

HOW NATURE HEALS

Why getting outdoors can be a cure-all for everyone.

BY CHARLOTTE HILTON ANDERSEN

48

MY STORY

My Motorbike,
My Freedom

There is a magic and solidarity that come with two-wheeled journeys.

BY XAVIER ALBERTI

52

ARTS AND CULTURE

The Vanishing Masters of Miniature Art

Amid Udaipur's quiet alleys, a centuries-old artistic tradition faces a troubling future.

BY VEIDEHI GITE

COVER ILLUSTRATION
by Siddhant Jumde

58

PHOTO ESSAY

Of Strays and Solace

How the free-roaming dogs on Goa's beaches became my companions through grief and silence.

BY ROHIT CHAWLA

66

DRAMA IN REAL LIFE

A Sinking Feeling

Trapped inside a cap-sized boat, they only had a shrinking air pocket keeping them alive.

BY DEREK BURNETT

76

WHO KNEW?

Let the Mystery Be

Who built those wondrous mosaics? Are some riddles better left unexplained?

BY GABRIELLE SCHWARZ

82

HISTORY

After the Eruption

Archaeologists are starting to understand how the survivors of Pompeii rebuilt their lives.

BY PROFESSOR STEVEN L. TUCK

90

TRAVEL

A Road of Discovery

My heart was broken and I was ready to leave Portugal for good. Could a drive across the country change my mind?

BY J. R. PATTERSON

52