MEDI-SCENE
DR. PREETHA REDDY

Studies show women are significantly more likely to be misdiagnosed during heart attacks, as their symptoms often differ from the classic male-centred patterns described in textbooks. Women are also more likely to receive delayed pain relief compared to men, with their symptoms often attributed to psychological causes. They continue to be under-researched, underfunded, and insufficiently integrated into medical curricula.

IT IS HIS WAY OR THE HIGHWAY
PM Narendra Modi gesturing at US President Donald Trump during a joint press conference at the White House in February

US President Donald Trump's cold, deal-based line of action pokes India, gives the kiss of life to Pakistan and whips the Middle East up. India, like many other countries, is still trying to make sense of an erratic POTUS. How does India play its cards smartly when Trump is on the loose? Will New Delhi have to recalibrate its foreign policy options?

Just because the US trades with China or Pakistan does not mean it is at our expense”
—Shivshankar Menon,
former national security adviser
